L-EAF Lab, in collaboration with The ASCEND Collective, creates hands-on learning experiences that prepare individuals for real-world success. Through an innovative experiential learning framework, participants gain practical, project-based skills that align directly with workforce needs. Together, we are developing a dedicated track for service members, veterans, and military spouses—integrating L-EAF Lab’s proven Agile Learning model with The ASCEND Collective’s skills-first career readiness and placement support. This partnership ensures learners don’t just gain knowledge—they build confidence, capability, and clear pathways to meaningful careers or entrepreneurial ventures.
